

Collegial Governance

Lakehead University is at risk when collegial governance is not preserved. Faculty members play a critical role in ensuring academic excellence. Shared governance empowers us to exercise our voices and influence the direction of our University. The current corporate, hierarchal structure discourages shared decision-making processes.

Lakehead University will thrive with a shared governance model that ensures everyone's perspectives and expertise are valued and utilized. Let's embrace a shared governance for a thriving University by:

Promoting transparency, accountability, and mutual respect among all members of Lakehead's community.

Leveraging faculty members' wealth of knowledge to make informed decisions that best serve the needs of the community.

Involving faculty members in governance and fostering collaborative processes.

Fostering a culture of inclusion, respect, and excellence that benefits all of us.
